1. What is UGRCat and what is it for?

UGRCat is a bilingual (Spanish-English) catalogue of official programmes and courses offered by the University of Granada (UGR). Created at the request of the Vice-Rectorate for Internationalization, the tool reflects the UGR's commitment to publish and maintain an updated bilingual catalogue of academic programmes on its institutional website, in line with the Erasmus Charter for Higher Education.

For example, the catalogue includes information on the admission requirements, length, mode of delivery, and degree awarded for each academic programme. It also provides up-to-date details about the academic components for each degree, including its name, code, type and contents.

In which languages is UGRCat available?

UGRCat is a bilingual database with user interfaces in Spanish and English. You can switch between the two languages depending on your needs. To select a language, click on the "español" (Spanish) or "English" language options in the top right corner of the navigation bar.

What information can I find in the navigation bar menus of UGRCat?

You can access academic information, as well as other UGR-specific resources, from the UGRCat homepage. Details about each of the available menu items is provided below:

2. How to easily find programmes

You can easily retrieve information about programmes by navigating through the map on the UGRCat homepage. Start by selecting the branch of education on the left-hand side of the screen and then choose the level of qualification in the upper box. Lastly, click on the degree you are looking for from the list provided. All relevant single, joint and international degree programmes will be displayed.
